'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND

Some men are good cooks—excellent cooks, who would rather cook a meal than sleep.

And these same good cooks wouldn't wash dishes if they had to.

That's human nature—or something.

According to the date on the Espee subway it was built in 1923.

But the thing has become such a fixture in Richmond that most people will tell you it was built "years and years" ago.

It is just getting to the season of the year when our amateur gardeners are ready to give up the ship in disgust.

When the garden was started it seemed to be a beautiful idea—a perfect idea.

Now that the weeds are growing, the idea doesn't look so "hot."

And after one of our back yard ranchers has dug weeds for half an hour, he agrees that something ought to be done about farm relief.

Must be a great life to be a telephone repair man.

Think of the fun of entering offices and homes and amusing one's self by tearing down phone jacks, scattering plasteel and what have you all over the floor.

Think of the joy of climbing upon a desk or a table with heavy boots.

And the fun of pulling the wires apart—just like spinning a web.

And the sport of talking through the little hand instrument that the repair men always carry around—talking to some mysterious Joe, or Bill.

And then, think of the fun of chucking in ghoulish glee as you say, "phone's all right buddy" and then walk away.

And think of the exquisite joy of listening in upon the customer after his phone has been "fixed"—listening to him cuss you and the telephone company.

Ah, what could be sweeter?

CONVICTION ASKED BY WARREN

OAKLAND, June 18.—Deadlocked, a jury that will decide the fate of Harry Lesser, millionaire treasurer of the California Construction company accused of paying graft, was locked up for the night at 10 o'clock tonight.

On trial with Lesser, on charges of bribing an Oakland paving inspector are James Austin and A. A. Horwege, employees of the California Construction company.

At 5:15 p. m. when the jury was taken out for dinner, they protested the interruption.

Gets Case
The jury received the case at 1:17 p. m. and went to lunch. It did not begin deliberations until 2:30.

District Attorney Earl Warren in his closing argument, urged the jury to find all of the defendants guilty, saying that "a verdict of guilty will do much to build up decent government and deter those whose inclinations are to bribe public officials."

Warren then proceeded to break down the defense contention that Frank M. Phillips and J. A. Allenby, Oakland and Richmond paving inspectors, were put on the company's payroll by Austin "out of friendship."

He pointed out that Austin was only on one job at a time, but that the two inspectors were on the payrolls of different jobs at the same time; that when Austin was transferred from Richmond to the Columbia Park district, Allenby remained on the payroll.

PLANE SAVES 120 PERSONS FROM HUNGER

EDMONTON, Alta., June 18.—UP—An airplane roared tonight over the wild northland, bringing provisions to 120 men, women and children facing starvation in the wilderness of the Peace River country.

The party set out in automobiles weeks ago from here and other Alberta cities to start a backwoods settlement in the rich forest and mineral lands of the north.

Torrential rains turned the roads into quagmires between Athabasca and Smith, near the northern boundary of Alberta. Telegraph wires were washed down and bridges were carried away.

The jinx hounded settlers struggling on foot to Smith, where their further progress was blocked completely. Provisions of the little frontier post soon were exhausted so that the citizens there as well as the northbound pioneers would have starved had it not been for the telegraph and the airplane.

The single wire to the tiny village was repaired at last and an "S. O. S." call was sent ticking down to Edmonton today. Captain "Wop" Fay, veteran north country aviator, took off immediately in a roomy plane packed with concentrated foodstuffs.

SLAYER KILLED IN ESCAPE TRY

EL PASO, Tex., June 18.—UP—Frederico Terrazas, 26, one of the confessed slayers of J. W. McIntyre, Columbus, N. M., stage driver, was shot and killed when he attempted to escape from Mexican Rurales last night, government officials here were notified today.

Terrazas, with his brother, Samuel, and Urbino Tarango, were captured near the Chihuahua, Sonora state line by Major Orozco and his Rurales.

Major Orozco said that he found McIntyre's pistol and other personal articles in the men's automobile and that they confessed the slaying.

SWEETHEART BRINGS BACK LOST MEMORY OF DOPE CHIEF

SAN MATEO, June 18.—UP—Memory was restored to Rex King Morgan, former Colorado narcotic agent, when the blue-eyed girl he had called sweetheart six months ago walked into his hospital room here today and smiled at him.

The girl, Miss Nora Kunau, Denver nurse, caused Morgan to recall for the first time since last January his life history.

Miss Kunau did not embrace Morgan as had been expected.

Knows Girl
As she walked toward his bed he jumped up and exclaimed: "I know you—You are Peggy."

"Hello, King," she responded, holding out her hand, which he clasped.

She explained why she had purposely met him as a friend instead of as a sweetheart.

"He is recalling his past but he has not recognized me as more than a dear friend," she said.

Recovery Seen
Morgan supplied a word occasionally for conversation while Miss Kunau was present and at one time said:

"Yes, you are Peggy. That name is going to bring back a lot to me. I named you Peggy, didn't I?"

Physicians said they believed Miss Kunau's presence at the hospital would assure Morgan's complete recovery. He became a victim of amnesia after an automobile accident near Laramie, Wyo., shortly after he left Denver for Los Angeles.

A photograph of Miss Kunau was carried by Morgan and it was by this that she was recently traced by authorities and asked to come here.

The Political Cauldron

During Bible times there were Esau's. During the time of Christ there were Judas Iscariots.

During the Revolutionary War, there were Benedict Arnolds.

History repeats many more instances of similar kinds, even as late as the recent World war.

This class of people are apparently with us today in politics, if the rumors that are prevalent are true.

They seem to be willing to betray not only the interests of the general public, but their friends as well.

And back of this commentary is the intense and frantic effort that is being made to prevent men and women from becoming candidates for public office, by fair or foul means.

All of this has been going on under cover, until the public is about to get the inside facts, and rise up in revolt.

Candidates have been harassed, demands have been made suddenly for the payment of loans, the welfare of families has been attacked.

This apparently is not a free country, judging from the attitude that some men occupying office assume.

Everything seems to be fair, even to getting names on petitions under such conditions that men would be placed in most embarrassing and humiliating positions.

There are legitimate nominating petitions, and illegitimate petitions. Possibly when nominating petitions are filed some of the names on them will recall to your mind the Esau's, the Judas Iscariots, and the Benedict Arnolds.

Today is Thursday, tomorrow is Friday, and the following day is Saturday, June 21st.

What will these three days bring forth?

POSSE HUNTS LOST PASTOR

TUCSON, Ariz., June 18.—UP—Posse of Indians and aged prospectors were plodding through a cactus infested desert north of here tonight in a renewed effort to locate the Rev. Thomas Howard, 74, Tucsonian, missing since June 7.

Atel on a new clue, Sheriff J. W. McDonald of Pima county sent a group of searchers to a camp 45 miles north of here, where a man resembling Howard was reported to have been seen.

The missing man's son, Col Earl Howard, Wheaton, Minn., newspaper publisher, is leading the new search. The aged minister's sister, Miss Florence Howard, believes her brother wandered out in the desert to search for several Minnesota friends, whom he declared "lived a little way out on the desert."

Meanwhile, a company of Arizona National Guardsmen were prepared to assist in the search should they be needed. Governor John C. Phillips, at Phoenix, said he would order the guardsmen out as soon as Pima county authorities have exhausted every effort to locate the missing man.

NEW PLANT WILL HIRE 200 MEN

Location of a fruit exchange and packing plant on the Richmond inner harbor, a plant that will employ 200 men, was reported from an authoritative source yesterday morning.

The industry, which will be located adjacent to the Filice and Perrelli plant on the Richmond inner harbor, will be one of the largest of its kind, it was stated.

The RECORD-HERALD was told that the new plant will be of allied interest to the new cannery.

CAN FRUIT

Fruit will be shipped here from the central part of the state. Here it will be packed and sent to all ports of the world.

Some of the fruit will be sent directly to the new Filice and Perrelli plant, where it will be canned.

LARGE BUILDING

A huge building will be erected on the water front, with railroad and shipping facilities. It will probably be served by both the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific railroads.

The need of a fruit grower's exchange and packing plant in this district has been a long needed want.

GOOD LOCATION HERE

Richmond is ideally located for such an exchange, with its back country to supply the plant with products.

Negotiations for the location of the new industry here are rapidly nearing completion, it was stated.

Actual work on the plant will be started within a short time, probably in time for this year's fruit crop.

TO EMPLOY 200

It was stated that when the plant starts it will employ approximately 200 men. Later, it was said, the company will employ more as the industry grows.

The name of the company which is planning the plant here, cannot be announced, but it is said that it is one of the largest in the state.

With the addition of this new plant, the tonnage handled over the local wharves will be increased by a large margin.

MECHANICS IN WIN OVER REFINERY

In a game marked by 12 errors, the Mechanics defeated the Refinery ball team yesterday afternoon at the First street diamond by a score of 13 to 9.

The Refinery started out by making two runs in the first inning and five in the second.

By this time it looked as if the Refinery was going to walk home with the contest.

But in the fourth inning the Mechanics came to bat and scored five runs. In the fifth inning the Mechanics repeated, aided by O'Rourke's homer with one man on base.

In the second inning the Mechanics had made one run and in the sixth they scored two.

The Refinery made one in the fourth and one in the seventh.

Cantua made a home run for the Refinery, but there was no one on base.

There was a large present—and enough razzberries for a mob twice its size.

BODYGUARD OF SLAIN SCRIBE SENTENCED

CHICAGO, June 18.—UP—Guilt playing police captains, return of Ambassador Charles G. Dawes, the trial of a gangster, bodyguard and aldermanic criticism of the nation's newspapers all figured tonight in the Alced Lingle, newspaper reporter murder mystery.

A new police chief, John H. "Hardboiled" Alcock, appointed since Lingle was slain more than a week ago, announced he would allow no more golf playing by his policemen until they cleaned up the case and so doing, cleaned up Chicago. He also suspended two policemen charged with being intoxicated and warned the rest that no drinking would be countenanced.

Dawes, ambassador to England, returned to work on plans for the 1933 World's fair. "What Chicago needs is not words, but action," he said in refusing to discuss the crime situation.

Anthony "Red" Kissner, gangster who served as bodyguard and handyman for Lingle, reporter of the Chicago Tribune, went on trial finally on charges of carrying concealed weapons.

When arrested months ago, detectives testified he said:

"You can't arrest me, I'm working for Jake Lingle."

The detectives arrested him anyway, and the case dragged through the courts, with attorneys making plea after plea for new trials and dismissals.

The jury, late today, found Kissner guilty. Maximum punishment is one year in jail and a $300 fine.

Others with him. Starting from some point in China, the craft will go to New Guinea, Australia, New Zealand, Hawaii, Panama and on to England.

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically, and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

MUSTEROLE
BETTER THAN A MUSTARD PLASTER

School nurse says all girls should know this

Each of the six looked like an illustration from Godey's Ladies Book. Dressed alike, they wore huge plumed hats, billowing gowns of white encircled with black girdles and black woolen mitts. They all carried lace parasols. The gowns shamelessly exposed a quarter-inch of each lady's shoe.

"Handicapped with them clothes," commented the grip. "The ladies of the original troupe must 'a' had something. They wouldn't get a tumble today."

Presently the ladies were joined by six escorts, Lloyd Hamilton, Bert Roach, Lee Moran, Lupino Lane, Heinie Conklin and Ben Turpin. Dressed as the ladies, grotesquely than the women, these blades of last century presented a spectacle that struck Leo as something worth a niche in the Smithsonian Institution.

The dance routine which these oddly dressed dozen executed, with all the staid decorum which doubtless attended its original performance, devastatingly parodied the whole. But this sight was denied him until the picture was released to the public.

the fables of the Brothers Grimm. But all he managed to remember of this sextette was that all the girls had married singularly well and were reputed to have established the dictum that any chorus girl who fails to marry a millionaire was something less than bright.

Arrived at the set he beheld a sextette of girls whose faces he vaguely identified with some beauty of the screen. He stared at them for a moment and then he remembered the sextette was that all the girls had married singularly well and were reputed to have established the dictum that any chorus girl who fails to marry a millionaire was something less than bright.

Feeling repaid by the laughs provided by both the Florida Kumbler and the romantic sequence enacted by Miss Lightner and her gladiatorial admirer, Leo departed in search of soberer information. His steps led him to a guillotine where, he learned, Prologue was to be filmed. He stared at the guillotine and then he remembered the sextette was that all the girls had married singularly well and were reputed to have established the dictum that any chorus girl who fails to marry a millionaire was something less than bright.

The unhappy Prologue was impersonated by H. B. Warner. Of the opinion, doubtless, that Jangle was being made and effectively done to death. He rejoiced in the tidings and privately assured himself that it was an admirable way of disposing of the Prologue.

Mr. Warner displayed praise-worthy fortitude in going to his death. He stared at the guillotine and then he remembered the sextette was that all the girls had married singularly well and were reputed to have established the dictum that any chorus girl who fails to marry a millionaire was something less than bright.

Leo was finally to be assembled. Reverses on the stage, he recalled, always seemed perfectly joined and this result he knew was achieved only by constant change and experiment. Doubtless, he reasoned, considerable work awaited Mr. Adolf, Mr. Haskell, Mr. Ceballos, Louis Silvers, the musical directors and others of the revue staff. He was eager to see the completed whole.

But this sight was denied him until the picture was released to the public.

SHOW SHOWS

Copyright 1920, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.
"Show of Shows," the Warner Bros. Vitaphone picture was the source for the material on which these stories are based.

entire spirit of the "tentatively naughty Nineties" it reminded Leo of Irene Ricard's roughneck clowning of Peggy Joyce's elegances in a forgotten revue. Likewise his unremitting gravity suggested Beatrice Lillie.

And that thought reminded him that Miss Lillie (or Lady or Pearl) she was rightly addressed around the Court of St. James) was numbered among the performers of "Show of Shows." Forthwith he went in search of her, only to learn that she was not to make her appearance on the lot for another day or two. As he stood lamenting this delay and considered peeping in on Ted Lewis or Alice White or Irene Bordoni, he was suddenly shocked to attention by what appeared to be a detonation.

Further sounds of the same nature, however, gradually revealed themselves into what was intended as a song. These sounds, weighted with a thick Italian accent, were projected into a startled world by way of announcing that:

"You were meant for me."

There was, of course, more to the lyric, but that couplet was sufficient to state the message completely. Hurriedly investigating, Leo found the source of the clamor to be the lungs of Mr. Bull Montana. That gentleman was making a whole-hearted and generally hilarious effort to tame a herd of wild B Flats. This he was doing by way of assuring Miss Winnie Lightner of their absolute suitability, one to the other.

Replenished in a morning coat, spats and silk topper, Mr. Montana still felt a bit short in appearance of the accepted musical comedy juvenile model. But willingness was in his performance, and no man could contribute more. Eventually Mr. Montana suffered himself to be kissed by Miss Lightner, an explosive comedienne from the Broadway stage, confirmed his suspicions and voiced similar sentiments of her own. Indubitably she agreed lyrically, each was meant for the other, though how this decision was reached remained somewhat inexplicable.

Upon completion of her song, Miss Lightner did something which few strong men would dare to do. She bashed Mr. Montana smartly here and there and Mr. Montana found back again and Mr. Montana's curdled ear at the reward of his days as a wrestler—already been known of, none of the amused onlookers would doubt that Miss Lightner had bestowed it upon him.

Feeling repaid by the laughs provided by both the Florida Kumbler and the romantic sequence enacted by Miss Lightner and her gladiatorial admirer, Leo departed in search of soberer information. His steps led him to a guillotine where, he learned, Prologue was to be filmed. ## OIL COMPANY TO LOCATE HERE

The McMillan Petroleum corporation will locate its northern and central California distributing plant in Richmond.

Announcement was made yesterday that the oil company has leased five acres of land from the Parr Richmond corporation on the local waterfront where it will build a terminal.

The site for the terminal is just east of the Richfield oil plant here.

Lease Taken

The lease was taken for a period of years by the oil company. Joseph Zeppa, vice president of the company, handled the negotiations.

Several large gasoline storage tanks, warehouses, loading racks and other facilities will be erected on the plant site.

The McMillan company will also handle the products of the Hancock oil company, it was stated.

Ship Oil Here

The products of the two companies will be shipped here from Los Angeles and will be discharged at the Parr-Richmond wharves at the outer harbor. A pipe line will connect the plant with the wharves.

The terminal, which is scheduled to be completed within 60 days, will represent an investment of between $75,000 and $100,000.

Marshall and Higgins, local contractors, will start filling the land for the new terminal this morning. It will be necessary to place two feet of fill on the property.

Contract Let

The contract for the warehouse, loading rack and other buildings has been let to F. C. Stoltz, general contractor of Oakland, and the contract for tanks, pipe lines and steel work was awarded to the Steel Pipe and Tank company of Berkeley.

The land upon which the terminal will be located was bought by the Parr company from the Richmond Belt Line railroad. It is located on the Santa Fe line.

Love Theft Denied By Film Star

LOS ANGELES, June 18.—UP—Harry Langdon, motion picture comedian, played in a serious role today as he testified in Superior court that he did not steal the love of his present wife when she was married to Thomas J. O'Brien, former Toledo, Ohio, engraver.

Paul Schenck, attorney for the comedian, immediately began to ask questions to lay the foundation by which he hopes to convince a jury that Langdon should not pay notes for $11,500 which he gave O'Brien.

The engraver claimed Langdon gave him $15,000 in cash and the notes to prevent him from filing a heart balm suit, but Langdon countered with the declaration he paid only to escape unpleasant notoriety.

"You are what they call a star in motion pictures," Schenck asked Langdon.

"Yes," the actor admitted with a smile.

Later Langdon made an emphatic denial he ever had alienated the affections of the present Mrs. Langdon or that their relations had been improper while she still was Mrs. O'Brien.

Langdon will be questioned at tomorrow's session of court, it was announced.

Alternately weeping and defiantly upbraiding prosecution attorneys, Mrs. Helen Langdon, the wife, earlier had testified that the actor once gave her a $1,000 bill to buy a fur coat and "stop shivering."

O'Brien's attorneys tried to force Mrs. Langdon to admit that Langdon gave her the money on Christmas, 1926, to pay for an illegal operation. The comedian's lawyers emphasized the fact that Mrs. O'Brien purchased the coat with the money.

During the week the case has been in session, Mrs. Langdon has been called upon to reveal many details of an allegedly unhappy life as the wife of O'Brien.

Electric Sign Attracts Bees

PORTLAND, Ore., June 18.—UP—Frank P. Wright of Denver knows his "beesness." A swarm of bees selected an electric sign over Bernard's jewelry store as a temporary resting place and prospective customers gave the place a wide detour. Wright was attracted by the crowd about the place and volunteered to remove the bees. He climbed a ladder, scraped them into a paper bag and then left it on top of the ladder until the swarm was in the container.

NATURE STUDY HELD BY BOYS AT Y CAMP

By JAMES SMITH
RECORD-HERALD Correspondent at Y Camp

CAMP PIONEER, Russian River June 18.—The wonders of wood, field and stream life in profusion around Camp Pioneer, and it has only taken the prying eyes of the young campers to unfold the curiosities and marvels of nature.

A nest of five fuzzy cottontail rabbits has been discovered immediately in back of the camp kitchen. The nest is cleverly hidden underneath a layer of dry grass, but was discovered by "Buddy," the camp mascot.

Another interesting nature exhibit in camp is a nest containing several young Oregon Towhees. Gaping red mouths are all that may be seen by the interested onlookers. The parent birds are to be seen constantly keeping a watch over the young birds. A nest of black-headed Grosbeaks, a bird very common in this locality is also found in the center of the camp. The eggs have just been hatched after constant vigilance on the part of the parent birds.

Nature study at Camp Pioneer is not confined to birds and beasts, but to trees, flowers and ferns. A display of wild flowers of this district has been placed on exhibit by Mrs. Reynold Carlson, wife of the Richmond Y. M. C. A. secretary.

More than a dozen older boys will leave camp this afternoon on an overnight hike to the top of Mount Duncan. The hike covers a distance of approximately 17 miles.

The members of Tents 2 and 3 yesterday tied for inspection honor banner.

The tent leaders were conquered 9 to 5 by the camping nine in a stiff baseball battle fought on the camp diamond yesterday afternoon. The score was tied 5-5 at the beginning of the last inning, but fierce rally won the game for the campers.

Steve Ruschik wired for the victors, while Bill Powell and Willie Hillier cheered for the leaders nine. Louis Bell received for the campers and Ralph Shallenberger performed behind the plate for the leaders.

Other members of the campers team were A. Sillon, Bob Miller, Gene Robertson, Bob Drexel, Howard Miller, Gus Boquet, Clarence Paulsen, Jerome Waite, Jimmie Smith and Freddy Ball.

The lineup for the leaders included Reynold Carlson, Stanley Paulsen, Bill Powell, Cecil Bowman and Bill Black.

TARIFF RATE PROBE WINS APPROVAL

WASHINGTON, June 18.—UP—The senate acted unanimously today to direct the tariff commission to find out if the new increased rates on leading articles bought by farmers and other consumers were justified.

A resolution was adopted for an investigation to determine differences in production costs here and abroad, of shoes, furniture, cement, and farm implements including hoes, shovels, spades, rakes and sickles. A report was requested at the earliest practicable date.

If the difference is found to be less than the rates of the new Hawley-Smoot tariff bill it will be up to the commission and President Hoover to adjust the rates downward.

No Debate

The resolution, introduced yesterday by Senator Borah, Repn. Idaho, leader of the coalition fight against the tariff bill, went through without objection or debate.

Meanwhile treasury officials, busy with putting the new bill into effect, expressed opinion that the revenue to the government would not be increased by the higher rates, due to two factors, one, that large stocks have been imported in recent months in anticipation of the higher rates, and two, that the higher rates will operate as intended by congress to shut out some foreign foods, thereby providing a market for American goods.

Customs on imports average around $600,000,000 a year now.

No Reduction

Treasury officials also have virtually given up hope of continuing this year's temporary $160,000,000 income tax reduction, despite an expected surplus of about the same amount at the end of the fiscal year in two weeks. The low level of business activity and numerous new appropriations by congress which will be effective in the new fiscal year, will keep expenditures high during the next 12 months. Some of these expenditures were those undertaken on public buildings and roads for the purpose of stimulating business during the recent depression.

Borah's chief of production regulation may bring an early report, as the new law authorizes a simpler method of ascertaining costs from invoices of shipments from abroad and other data.

Borah and other anti-tariff men have charged that the new law's rates are not really based on pro-
